“Magic School Bus Inside a Hurricane”
By Joanna Cole
J 551.55 COL

Ms. Frizzle is not a normal teacher. The class is working on meteorology and this time the bus is going to take them into a hurricane! Everything is going great until Arnold gets lost. Where did he go?

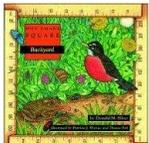

“Where the Waves Break”
By Anita Malnig
J 574.5 MAL

Full-color photographs line the pages of this text about life at the edge of the sea. Creatures that live in shallow water, tide pools, and along the shore are plentiful and interesting.

“A Log's Life”
By Wendy Pfeffer
J 574.5 PFE

Trees have a life cycle, just like every other living thing. They live for so long it's hard to imagine just what that cycle looks like without some help from Wendy Pfeffer. Take a look around your backyard!

“Backyard”
By Donna Silver
J 574.5 SIL

There is so much wildlife around your backyard to study. Silver takes one small square and looks at all of the things within.

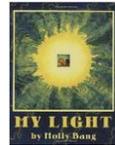

“Egg: Nature's Perfect Package”
By Steve Jenkins
J 591.468 JEN

Eggs come in all shapes and sizes. But it's not always easy to survive as an egg, even if it's small and blends in. How do animals lay their eggs and protect them?

“Mantis Shrimp: Master of Punching”
By Josh Plattner
J 595.379 PLA

Did you know animals can have superpowers? The Mantis Shrimp certainly does with its ability to punch! It can see a larger color spectrum than humans and can boil water with its speed punches!

“My Light”
By Molly Bang
J 621.47 BAN

Light isn't the only thing we get from the sun. Molly Bang follows the rays of light to explain the many ways that the Earth gains energy from it. Discover the power of the sun.

“How Machines Work: Zoo Break!”
By David Macaulay
J 621.8 MAC

Sloth and his sidekick, Sengi, try to break out of the zoo with the help of simple machines. Pop-ups and lift-the-flaps allow for greater exploration into the workings of each.

“It's Our Garden”
By George Ancona
J 635 ANC

At an elementary school in Santa Fe the kids rush outside to check on their school garden. Follow the garden from start to finish.
