

Nevins Memorial Library

Growing Community

TEN BOOKS To Learn About Opposites

“Three Little Kittens”
By Steven Anderson
J-ER AND

These little kittens are having a tough day! Wet, dry, dirty, clean—oh my! Learn about opposites and everything these silly kitten go through when they accidentally lose their mittens.

“Opposites Everywhere”
By Dawn Babb Prochovnic
J-ER PRO

This rhythmic tale invites readers to chant along and learn American Sign Language signs for opposites including big and small, sweet and sour, rough and smooth.

“Sun Above and Blooms Below”
By Felicia Sanzari Chernesky
J-ER CHE

It’s still a little cold and wet outside, but it’s warm and dry inside the barn where the eggs are waiting. You’ll find things that are big and little, short and tall.

“One Windy Day”
By Tammi Salzano
J-ER BOARD SAL

Learn opposites with Fox! Fox, the mail carrier, loves windy days. But on one particular windy day the mail to be delivered starts to blow away.

“A Garden of Opposites”
By Nancy Davis
J-ER DAV

Enter this beautiful garden and see what opposites you’ll find! A short caterpillar and a long garden snake, a closed bud and an open blossom.

“Black? White! Day? Night!”
By Laura Vaccaro Seeger
J-ER SEE

Through a series of ingenious die-cut pages, the reader discovers things that are the opposite of what they seem. A bat, a ghost; a sunny day, a starry night.

“Andy and Sandy’s Anything Adventure”
By Tomie DePaola
J-ER DEP ABC

Andy is small. Sandy is tall. Andy is quiet. Sandy is LOUD. Andy and Sandy may be opposites, but they’re best friends. Playing dress up, anything can happen.

“Opposites” series
By Sharon Gordon
Non-fiction and BiLingual

This series includes varies books outlining opposites. Up and down, fast and slow, big and small, dirty and clean. A single line of text at the bottom of the page makes this a good start for early learners.

“Dot”
By Patricia Intriago
J-ER INT

Dots here, dots there, you can see dots everywhere! Some are loud, some are quiet. Some are happy, some are sad. Some dots even taste yummy, while others taste bad.

“Opposites” series
By Luana Mitten
Non-fiction and BiLingual

Another great series featuring opposites. Several books included in the series are open and closed, front and back, big and little. Check out Luana Mitten’s other great concept books, too!