Ten Books About Going to Kindergarten

"Kindergarten Rocks!"
By Katie Davis
J-PB ER DAV

Dexter knows everything about kindergarten because his sister told him. Even though he's not worried, his stuffed dog, Rufus, is. Will Rufus be okay?

"First Day of School"
By Anne Rockwell
J ER ROC

Kids are gearing up for the new school year. Their preparation has a lot to do with haircuts, new clothes, and new school supplies.

"Planet Kindergarten"
By Sue-Ganz-Schmitt
J ER GAN

A little boy imagines going to kindergarten as a voyage into space. He tries to get used to the new atmosphere and, though it's not home, he has a great day and can't wait to go back.

"Miss Bindergarten Gets Ready for Kindergarten"
By Joseph Slate
J ER SLA

In ABC format, Miss Bindergarten is hard at work preparing for her first day with a new class.

"A Place Called Kindergarten"
By Jessica Harper
J ER HAR

The farm animals are very worried. Their boy has not been around all day and the dog says he went to "Kindergarten." Will their boy come back?

"Is Your Buffalo Ready for Kindergarten?"
By Audrey Vernick
J ER VER

Your buffalo is doing great! He has his backpack and he's ready to go. He's a bit afraid of scissors and isn't the best at hide-and-seek, but he'll get there.

"The Pirate of Kindergarten"
By George Ella Lyon
J ER LYO

Ginny sees two of everything. She doesn't know why it is so difficult to read and write and use scissors until the doctor tells her. With her brand new patch she's the pirate of kindergarten!

"Prepárate, kindergarten!
Allá voy!"
Por Nancy Carlson
J ER CAR (Bilingual)

Henry is so excited for the first day of kindergarten. When he first gets there, it seems a bit scary to be leaving mom, but he is comforted by familiar things.

"School's First Day of School"
By Adam Rex
J ER REX

A new school is built and the most nervous one about the first day is the school himself. The janitor explains to school how much fun it will be, but school is not sure if the kids will like him. Will they?

"Games for Learning"
By Peggy Kaye
J-PS 372.13 KAY

Give your child the skills to succeed. In ten minutes a day, these games cover areas of school curriculum in a fun and entertaining way. This sly educational tool will be an asset to any parent.
